PROHIBITORY LEGISLATION.

The "Maine Law" in Michigan.

The Lausing State Republican has the folloving interesting account of the operation of the prohibitory liquor law in Michigan: "Michigan has upon its statute books the most efficient prohibitory law of any State in the Union. In one thing alone, as originally enacted, it is effectual where most if not all laws in other States have failed. We refer to the sections in relation to appeal from the justice to the circuit courts. In this section of the State we know of no appeal that has been taken to the circuit, and it has rarely if ever happened in the State. So far as Detroit, Jackson, East Saginaw, Grand Rapids, and other of our large cities are concerned, the law is a dead letter upon our statute books. In our own city it is enforced when complaint is made, but we know of no complaints except of the lower order of saloons, whose proprieters are periodically, perhaps three or four times a year, hauled up and made to pay a five of ten dollars and costs, amounting in the aggregate to fifty or sixty dollars, the profits of a week's busines "There are small villages and farming towns where the law is enforced. They stand by the law and are entitled to its benefits. But in three-fourths of the towns in Michigan it is a

The failure of the law is from want of pluck on the part of its friends, and they have no right to blame the law or throw the responsibility elsewhere than on themselves. For this reason alone we are not sorry that the bill increasing penalties has gone by the board. The statute books of the State are already too much encumbered with laws which are not enforced. "The average of public sentiment must be equal to the enforcement of laws, or their enactment is a mere matter of form and they are worthless as so much blank paper. And when the Legislature is relied upon solely for the re-straint and reformation of men, it fails to confer expected benefits. If such laws are made the catepaw to create political parties, whose object is less their enforcement than the enjoyment of power, the moral sentiment that enacted the statute is forgotten, and under its operation that education belonging not to parties but to men as men, is lost sight of. That is the result of the

"There is not one man pledged to total absti-nence now where there were ten twenty years ago. The proportion of drunkards may not be greater, but the men who have the moral stamina to enforce such laws are decreasing in

PRESIDENT THIERS.

His Opinion of How the Elections were Car-ried Out-The Duty of the Hour-No Party but France.

The Memorial of St. Etlenne gives the following account of a private interview between M. Thiers and the deputies of the Loire. The aged statesman spoke as follows: -Never has an Assembly been more freely elected than the present one. There have been a few attempts by the prefects to exercise a pressure, but the Government did not have the time and opportunity to influence the elections even if it had been so inclined. In the invaded departments the Prussians had no interest to interfere, and kept aloof. The number of voters has been as large as at any previous election.

The present Assembly does, therefore, truly represent France. The majority is strong and united, and is, for this very reason, disposed to be moderate. It is necessary that the Assembly should abstain from discussing questions that might cause a division. The question whether France should be a monarchy or a republic curit to be disbe a monarchy or a republic ought to be dis-carded for the present. We have before us the task of reassuming our position in Europe, to reorganize our armies and to raise our credit. To do these things we need good diplomats, good military men and good financiers. It matters little to me whether they be republicans or royalists. Let us give proof of conciliation. Do not let us attack anybody as long as the Prussians are among us. If we should be attacked we shall see what we can do, We have fists; we shall make use of them. As far as I am concerned, gentlemen, I have no more passions; I am past resentment. I should like to possess yet these qualities, but I am too old. I shall devote the few years that may be left me on this earth to the public welfare. I have asked liberty of the empire, and if it had given what I demanded I should have accepted and sustained it. But there is no merit in saying this now—the empire is a thing of the past. Let the republic give me order and liberty, and I shall not be opposed to the republic. I have the greatest respect for that branch of the Bourbons which I formerly served, but henceforward I shall serve no party; I shall serve France!

Let us all remain united in the interest of France and on the common ground of liberty and the independence of our unfortunate

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad,

A NEW TRUNK LINE FROM THE SEA-BOARD TO THE WEST,

Is already completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs, 2:7 miles, and there remain but 2:0 miles now under construction, to complete it to the Western terminus on the Ohio river, 315 miles below Pittsburg, at the head of reliable and continuous navigation.

The completed portion of the road is doing a GOOD LOCAL BUSINESS, which will be enormously increased as it progresses and opens the immense mineral riches of Virginia and West Virginia, whose coal and iron are celeprated for their quality and abundance, and would alone enrich the means of communication which afford them access to the markets East and West.

The advantages of the Chesapeake and Ohio Raiiroad AS A GREAT EAST AND WEST THROUGH LINE for the transportation of the heavy freights (which constitute the principal part of the East and West through traffic) are numerous and important, 1. A SHORT ROUTE between the Atlantic Coast and the Great West.
2. LOW GRADES.
3. LIGHT CURVES.
4. A GENIAL CLIMATE, which admits of safe.

nomical, and rapid railroad operation throughout the year.
5. EAST AND WEST TERMINI, at favorable points on tide-water and the Ohio river.
6. A VERY LAKGE THROUGH AND LOCAL

TRAFFIC awailing its progress.

7. A COMPARATIVELY LIGHT CAPITAL AND DEBT, and consequently a light tax upon traffic for payment of interest and dividends. All these conditions favor a cheap and economical working of the line, which will enable the Chesapeake and Ohio route to do a profitable East and West through business at rates which would not pay by the more difficult and costly lines, and to control an enormous Southwestern through trade,
We are now authorized to sell an additional amount of FIRST MORTGAGE SIX PER CENT.

GOLD BONDS of the company, at the original price of 10 and accrued interest, The bonds are secured by a mortgage upon the entire road, franchises, and property of the company, WHICH NOW, IN COMPLETED ROAD AND WORK DONE, EXCEEDS THE ENTIRE AMOUNT OF THE MORTGAGE, and which, when completed, will be worth at least $30,000,000,

A Sinking Fund of $100,000 per annum is provided for their redemption.

They are issued as Coupons or Registered Bonds, $100, $500, and $1000, Interest payable May and November, in the city of New York. New York.

The superior advantages, valuable property and franchises, and able and honorable management of the Chesapeake and Ohio Raliroad Company, render it one of the most substantial, reliable, and trustworthy corporations in the country, and commend its securities to the unhesitating confidence of capitalists and investors.
